Brochure, Item R4003 | Nonmember: $6.65 ($4.65 each for 100 or more)
CAI member: $4.00 ($2.80 each for 100 or more)

This illustrated booklet covers the basics of running meetings according to Robert’s Rules of Order. A handy resource for association boards and managers, it’s one of our best sellers.

Accounting for Managers
225 pages, indexed, Item R1742 | Nonmember: $20 | CAI member: $11.99

An accountant and a manager walk into a bar, and the accountant says, “You managers need a basic understanding of how money is accounted for in an association, since it plays a hand in every decision you make.” Then the accountant hands Accounting for Managers to the manager and says, “This down-to-earth book simplifies accounting concepts and their application in everyday business—enhancing your productivity and adding value to your communities, your employer and your career.”

The Art of Social Media
Power Tips for Power Users
208 pages, hardcover, Item R8073 | Nonmember: $34 | CAI member: $19.95

If two roads diverged in a yellow wood, would you take the one less tweeted about? Your success or failure is increasingly about social media. The Art of Social Media is the one guide you need to get the most bang for your time, effort and money. Find out how to build your foundation, amass your digital assets, optimize your profile, attract more followers and effectively integrate social media and blogging. For beginners overwhelmed by too many choices as well as seasoned professionals eager to improve their game, this essential book is full of tactics proven to work in the real world.

Attorneys
Finding the Right Community Association Professional
52 pages, Item 0598 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15

Forget the lawyer jokes—the association attorney is the board’s best friend. And not just any attorney will do. Attorneys representing community associations must be experts in real estate, contracts, corporate law, premises and director’s liability, design review, insurance, collections, foreclosure and taxation—just for starters. This guide will help you find—and work with—the best attorney for your association. It includes six appendices, sample forms, checklists and documents.

Avoiding the Con in Construction
How to Plan for Hassle-Free Home Building, Renovation & Repair
192 pages, indexed, Item R0282 | Nonmember: $24.95 | CAI member: $14.95

You’re looking for a contractor, and one you interviewed recently stated that the ratio of an igloo’s circumference to its diameter is Eskimo Pi. He’s probably not your best choice. But who is? When you need a construction contractor, this book will give you an inside look so you can make wise hiring decisions and work successfully with your choice. Written in everyday terms, it tells you all you need to know to get the most for your money.

Be Reasonable!
How Community Associations Can Enforce Rules Without Antagonizing Residents, Going to Court or Starting World War III
63 pages, indexed, Item 1400 | Nonmember: $15 | CAI member: $9

Year after year, this classic collection of expert essays remains among our best sellers. More than 30 association leaders share advice on how to write and enforce rules—reasonably.
Before and After Disaster Strikes

Best Practices Report: Green Communities
81 pages, Item 1749 | Nonmember: $22 | CAI member: $12.95
How many managers and board members does it take to change a light bulb? None, if they’ve used super long-lasting compact fluorescent bulbs. Learn other ways to help your community association go green, and how to adopt environmentally friendly policies and practices. This report addresses energy management, transportation, waste, building management, governing documents, land-use management and much more.

Best Practices Report: Reserve Studies/Management
18 pages, Item 1633 | Nonmember: $12 | CAI member: $6.95
Careful financial planning for future repairs and replacements is clearly in a community’s best interest. Maintaining a reserve fund not only meets legal, fiduciary and professional requirements, it also minimizes the need for special assessments and enhances resale values. Performance benchmarks illustrated with case studies are included in this report.

Best Practices Report: Strategic Planning
24 pages, Item 1671 | Nonmember: $12 | CAI member: $6.95
Do you ever feel that, if it weren’t for the last minute, nothing would get done? Get out in front of your goals with this report that covers the basics of strategic planning—development, execution, review and the long-range planning process. It includes performance benchmarks illustrated with case studies.

Best Practices Report: Transition
49 pages, Item 1688 | Nonmember: $22 | CAI member: $12.95

Bids & Contracts
Finding the Right Community Association Professional
22 pages, Item 5931 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Find out how to decide what needs to be done, what to do if a worker is injured, how to ensure the job is done right, how to pay for the work and who signs the contract. This guide contains tips for writing simple, effective contracts, a 27-point specifications chart, a checklist of project aspects, customizable sample job specs and a sample preventive maintenance contract.
The Board Member Tool Kit
120 pages, Item 0710 | Nonmember: $25.95 | CAI member: $15.95

No, it isn’t a kit you have to put together—it’s better. Whether you manage your association or have professional help, it’s a big responsibility. Here’s the information and resources you need to be successful. The kit includes more than two dozen sample documents plus Community Association Fundamentals, Rights and Responsibilities for Better Communities, Model Code of Ethics for Community Association Board Members and Governance Guidelines.

Board members who join CAI are eligible for one FREE Board Member Tool Kit. Please call (888) 224-4321 to request your copy.

The Board President
Roles and Responsibilities in Community Associations
28 pages, Item 5895 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15

Don’t panic! You can handle the board president position with help from this useful guide that defines your role and offers tips for working with the board, manager and residents. It will get you through developing goals, setting priorities, using committees effectively and promoting volunteerism. After you read about your governing documents, fiduciary responsibility, and how to conduct meetings, you’ll find being president can be pretty great.

The Board Secretary
Roles and Responsibilities in Community Associations
30 pages, Item 5834 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15

Gone are the days when secretaries typed, filed and brought the boss coffee. The association secretary has a completely different role—with lots of responsibility. Preparing for meetings, keeping records, giving notice of meetings, processing proxy votes, recording resolutions—these transactions can have legal repercussions if you get them wrong). Get them right with this essential guide. It also includes sample agendas, minutes, forms and an appendix outlining how to control proxy abuse.

The Board Treasurer
Roles and Responsibilities in Community Associations
32 pages, Item 0017 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15

Not just for treasurers, this guide contains information on all aspects of association finances—statements, balance sheets, assets and liabilities, members’ equity, reserves, investments, audits and more. It outlines the treasurer’s duties (which do not include storing cash under your mattress) and how to prepare budgets, work with boards and handle delinquencies. It also contains sample documents.

Building Community
Proven Strategies for Turning Homeowners into Neighbors

Neighbors should not be the strangers who live next door, but how can associations build a sense of community? Make a frame of strong community pride, clad it with leadership, shingle it with a sense of resident responsibility and plant lots of activities. Additional blueprints for building community are provided by ten of the nation’s top experts on community associations and the people who lead them.
CMCA Study Kit
Item M5134 | Nonmember: $120 | CAI member: $72
The CMCA Study Kit comprises six volumes from the Guides for Association Practitioners series that will help you pass the examination for the Certified Manager of Community Associations credential: Drafting Rules, Insurance, Risk Management, Bids & Contracts, Reserve Funds and Meetings & Elections.

Communications
How Community Associations Keep in Touch
51 pages, Item 0215 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Communication is the key to success when managing or governing a community association. This guide covers personal and written communications, including correspondence, newsletters, annual reports, notices and handbooks; listening through surveys and other tools; communicating outside the association; and communications technology.

Community Association Finances
This collection of 31 articles from Common Ground magazine covers assessments, cutting costs, generating revenue, budgeting, protecting assets, reserves, investing and taxes. Whew! That’s pretty much everything about finances!

Community Association Leadership
A Guide for Volunteers
35 pages, Item 0567 | Nonmember: $8.39 | ($5.87 each for 100 or more)
CAI member: $5 | ($3.50 each for 100 or more)
We don’t know if buyers like this book because it’s inexpensive, because it’s a great read or both. We are certain, however, that it educates volunteer leaders with the essentials: the role of the board, officers and committees and the importance of fiduciary duty. A perennial favorite, it includes the Model Code of Ethics for Community Association Board Members and Community Association Governance Guidelines.

Community Association Manager Compensation and Salary Survey 2013
72 pages, Item 1794 | Nonmember: $99 | CAI member: $59
OK, it’s a little out of date, but it’s still the most recent and comprehensive salary data for community association managers and management companies. There’s nothing else available that contains data by region and that’s based on community association and management company size. The really interesting data is how much more managers with professional credentials make than managers who don’t have them.

The Complete Book of Home Inspection
359 pages, indexed, Item R2775 | Nonmember: $24.95 | CAI member: $14.95
You hoping there’s nothing lurking behind, beneath, above and around the structures in your community, but you still need to take a look. How do you evaluate conditions accurately? By using the techniques and methods used by experienced home inspectors outlined here. This book includes information on EIFS, mold, Chinese drywall, engineered lumber, geothermal heating, and alternative septic systems, and it has more than 150 photos, graphs, checklists and worksheets.
The Complete Idiot’s Guide® to Parliamentary Procedure
144 pages, indexed, Item R2205 | Nonmember: $16.95 | CAI member: $9.95
This guide covers everything you need to conduct shorter, fair and orderly meetings, including tips on what rules to use for which meetings; making, seconding and debating motions; voting and breaking ties; absentee and proxy votes; strategies for sticking to an agenda and handling troublesome attendees. (Not that your attendees are troublesome, of course.)

Condo Living 2
The Authoritative Guide to Buying, Selling, and Operating a Condominium
252 pages, Item R8015 | Nonmember: $33.99 | CAI member: $19.99
Condominium living isn’t for everyone. Anyone considering it should be aware of the legal and practical aspects of condominium living. Fortunately, this book has everything you need to know.

The Condominium Bluebook 2016
550 pages, indexed, Item R9309 | Nonmember: $30.00 | CAI member: $17.95
This manual is an essential resource for owners, board members and managers on laws governing condominiums and planned developments in California.

The Condominium Concept
352 pages, indexed, Item R5572 | Nonmember: $36.59 | CAI member: $21.95
Sunshine, oranges and condominium associations—it must be Florida! Find out how to operate your Florida condominium association successfully with this great guide covering meetings, officers and committees, budgets and financial reports, assessments, amending documents, modifying property, rights and responsibilities of the unit owners, enforcing documents, resolving disputes and … well, just about everything. Written in clear, concise language, it includes 69 sample forms and documents.

The Condo Owner’s Answer Book
Practical Answers to More Than 125 Questions about Condominium Ownership
243 pages, Item R6331 | Nonmember: $21.59 | CAI member: $12.95
The question-and-answer format makes for easy reading in this book that addresses the unique lifestyle that comes with owning a condominium and being a member of a condominium association.

Condos, Townhomes and Homeowner Associations
How to Make Your Investment Safer
262 pages, Item R4501 | Nonmember: $52.95 | CAI member: $29.95
Written to help board members learn basic financial principles that will protect owners’ investments and eliminate the need for special assessments, this book has lots of cool graphics, including charts, checklists and sample documents.
Conducting Meetings
A Guide to Running Productive Community Association Board Meetings
66 pages, Item 0031 | Nonmember: $22 | CAI member: $13.20
Death, taxes and—in community associations—meetings are inevitable. Learn how to prepare for a meeting, where to meet, how to stay on the agenda, take meaningful minutes, and when and how resolutions should be used with this guide. Chapters on tape recording meetings and conducting executive sessions answer some common questions about what's practical and what's appropriate.

Conflict Resolution
How ADR Helps Community Associations
48 pages, Item 5869 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
"Can't we all just get along?" Yes, with this guide to alternative dispute resolution—negotiation, mediation and arbitration. ADR is far less costly than litigation and promotes harmony rather than discord. Learn how to avoid and manage disputes and build consensus among divergent groups with this book, which includes numerous sample documents.

Conflicts of Interest
How Community Association Leaders Honor Their Duties
30 pages, Item 594X | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Conflicts of interest arise in community associations and sometimes have unwanted legal consequences. Learn how to avoid them with this guide, which covers recognizing conflicts of interest, fiduciary duty, directors’ conduct, manager conflicts, ethics policies, board conflicts and a host of other topics. It also contains sample policies, resolutions, codes of ethics and illustrative court cases.

Construction Defect Litigation
The Community Association’s Guide to the Legal Process
240 pages, hard cover, Item 0055 | Nonmember: $49.95 | CAI member: $29.95
Abraham Lincoln said, "Discourage litigation. Persuade your neighbors to compromise whenever you can." And, if that doesn’t work, reading this book is the next step. Managers, board members, homeowners and others in (and working for) community associations need to understand the complex and time-consuming process that is construction defect litigation. This book will simplify the process and save you time and money.

Curb Appeal
How Community Associations Maintain Common Areas
20 pages, Item 0645 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Everyone wants to live in a well-groomed and attractive neighborhood. Find out how to maintain and enhance common elements like recreation areas, landscaping, lighting, roads and parking lots, windows and other exterior elements, and signs and entrances. Learn how to finance maintenance and improvements to these features, how to use volunteers, contain risks and sell your plans to the residents with this guide.

The Dark Condos
Novel, 398 pages, Item R9849 | Nonmembers: $19.95 | CAI members: $11.95
This isn’t a typical CAI book—it’s a novel! It won’t count toward your credential, but it will make you laugh. What happens when a board uses a surveillance drone to find rules violations or when a condo board hits the lottery? What could possibly go wrong? Attorney Joshua Fyler learns that a lot can go wrong—and not just for his clients. He’s being investigated by the feds. Is he laundering funds through nonexistent—dark—condos?

Decision Making in Communities
Why Groups of Smart People Sometimes Make Bad Decisions
94 pages, Item 5621 | Nonmember: $12.95 | CAI member: $10.95
$6.95
What unseen forces are at work during board meetings, and how are they influencing board decisions? Find out how to recognize and counter group polarization, minority influence, groupthink, the power of persuasion, mental shortcuts and other phenomenon.

Delinquencies
How Community Associations Collect Assessments
36 pages, Item 0185 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Every association has residents who just can’t manage to pay their assessments. The bad news is the association has to deal with it. The good news is this informative guide covers collections policies and procedures, legal remedies to collect delinquencies, the effect of bankruptcy on collections, the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act and more. Sample letters and a collections resolution are included.

Design Review
How Community Associations Maintain Peace & Harmony
28 pages, Item 5877 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Frank Lloyd Wright recently tweeted, “This guide helps you establish and enforce appropriate design review procedures and requirements that enhance and maintain your community and improve your architectural review and compliance.” How’d he do that? And why didn’t he mention that it includes suggestions for design-committee procedures and sample design guidelines to help you develop or update your own association manual?

Developer Transition
How Community Associations Assume Independence
28 pages, Item 5923 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
This guide leads you through the developer transition process, including methods and legal requirements. It covers how to draft documents, structure committees, develop leaders and involve residents early. A transition checklist is included.
Drafting Rules
How Community Associations Maintain Peace & Harmony
34 pages, Item 5885 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Do residents in your community subscribe to the pie-crust theory of rules—they’re made to be broken? This guide may help; it spells out the legal basis for making rules, explains different types of rules and offers guidelines for developing good rules. Its sample community association rules include almost everything from trash collection to swimming pools.

Expert Opinions
For Community Association Managers and Boards
Levi Strauss said, “An expert knows all the answers—if you ask the right questions.” In this volume, managers and board members ask great questions (you’ve probably asked them, too) and they’re answered by the country’s leading experts on community associations. This collection includes 89 “Ask the Expert” columns from Common Ground magazine that touch on just about every challenge boards and managers face each day.

Everyday Governance
The Community Association’s Guide to Flags, Rentals, Holiday Decorations, Hoops and Other Headaches
102 pages, Item 0123 | Nonmember: $16.95 | CAI member: $9.99

Landscape Contractors
How to Find the Right Community Association Professional
33 pages, Item 0109 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Work done well never needs doing over—except maybe for lawn mowing, weeding and overall landscape maintenance. That’s why it’s important to hire the best landscape contractor for your association. This useful guide covers drafting specs, performance criteria, warranties, maintenance schedules, insurance requirements, communicating with residents, bidding the contract, selecting the best bid, legal review, environmental concerns and contractor evaluation. It also includes sample documents.

The Law of Florida Homeowners Associations
176 pages, indexed, Item R7224 | Nonmember: $27.95 | CAI member: $16.95
This book is a practical, step-by-step guide to Florida’s statutory requirements for meetings, membership voting, parliamentary procedures, budgets, covenants, architectural control, officer’s roles and much more. It also contains numerous Florida sample forms available for use without permission.

Management Companies
How to Find the Right Community Association Professional
24 pages, Item 0178 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Here’s guidance for deciding on the right company to manage your community—covering bid specifications, identifying candidates, requests for and analysis of proposals, on-site meetings, the interview process and working successfully with your management company.

Managing & Governing
How Community Associations Function
26 pages, Item 0161 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
This is an excellent overview of the various aspects of managing a community association and providing business (physical assets and finances), governance (meetings, elections, rules and architectural controls) and management (recruiting volunteers, resolving disputes and protecting the environment) services. It also contains a fascinating chapter on why community associations are successful forms of housing.

Meetings & Elections
How Community Associations Exercise Democracy
62 pages, Item 0796 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
This is an excellent reference for conducting meetings and elections—quorums, meeting notices, parliamentary procedure, organizing and implementing elections, determining ownership status, voting procedures and proxies. It also addresses how technology has changed the way community associations conduct business, including electronic notices, e-ballots and e-proxies. In addition, the book includes a checklist of election procedures and an election policy and procedures resolution.

Member Dues
How Community Associations Collect Assessments
24 pages, Item 5857 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
The title should have been Member Assessments, but that didn’t fit on the cover. Whatever you call the funds you collect, you’ll need a payment system that works! Explains six kinds of remittance systems and helps you decide which is best for your association. Contains numerous sample documents.
Motivating the “What’s In It for Me?” Workforce
226 pages, Item R4147 | Nonmember: $31.59 | CAI member: $18.95
When did the “send” button become mightier than the sword? And a picture worth a thousand emojis? When four dramatically different generations converged in the workforce—Matures, Baby Boomers, Gen Xers and Millennials! This book helps managers and boards understand the behaviors, priorities and loyalties of each generation and how to motivate all employees and volunteers to work better and smarter. It’s filled with insights that will make your interactions more productive and positive.

Natural Disasters
How Community Associations Protect Themselves
29 pages, Item 0130 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15
Failing to plan for disaster is failing to fulfill the fiduciary duty that association leaders share. Natural disasters pose special threats to many community associations. Find out how to initiate a preparedness project, work closely with residents to analyze the association’s needs, develop a workable plan and familiarize all residents with its execution. This guide includes a sample outline for a disaster plan.

Neighborhood Watch
What Residents Can Do About Crime
Brochure, 16 pages, Item R5492 | Nonmember: $6.65 ($4.65 each for 100 or more)
CAI member: $4.00 ($2.80 each for 100 or more)
To some, being a good neighbor means minding your own business. Not true! Learn how and why to form a neighborhood watch, get it started, keep people involved and gain support from police, local government and civic organizations.

New Neighborhoods
The Consumer’s Guide to Condominium, Co-op, and HOA Living

The Pursuit of Parking
A Guide for Community Associations
82 pages, Item 5826 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $10.95
Noted novelist, J.G. Ballard, wrote, “When Armageddon takes place, parking is going to be a major problem.” Apparently he doesn’t live in a community association—where parking can be a problem now. For those of us who do, order in the lot and harmony among residents can be achieved with the ultimate “how-to” parking manual. It covers parking restrictions and facilitating compliance, enforcement, processing violations, towing, handicapped parking, seven tips for increasing parking space and numerous sample documents.
Questions & Answers about Community Associations

479 pages, Item R9028 | Nonmember: $30 | CAI member: $18

For 12 years, Jan Hickenbottom answered homeowners’ questions in her Los Angeles Times column on community associations. Collected here in one volume, Jan’s columns cover topics like legal issues, finances, governing documents, architectural control, insurance, maintenance, meetings, absentee owners, rentals, parking, pools and pets. Although originally written for a California audience, covenant-controlled communities anywhere can benefit from the advice in this book.

Reinventing the Rules
A Step-By-Step Guide for Being Reasonable

64 pages, Item 5753 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15

The best thing—and the worst thing—about community-association living is the rules. This book is every community’s guide to whether its rules are reasonable and necessary, including how to make exceptions and still maintain duty to the association, how to avoid the hidden costs of battling with residents instead of being flexible and much more.

Reserve Funds
How & Why Community Associations Invest Assets

76 pages, Item 0277 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15

Thomas Henry Huxley said, “Economy does not lie in sparing money, but in spending it wisely.” Good advice for those who view reserves as an extra expense rather than an essential part of operating a community association successfully. Learn how to establish the right funds, invest them responsibly and comply with federal and state regulations. Appendices include FAQs and summaries of state reserve-fund laws.

Risk Management
How Community Associations Protect Themselves

72 pages, Item 0703 | Nonmember: $25 | CAI member: $15

Manage risk by using a five-step decision-making process and implement a risk-management program by engaging in four key activities. Find out when and to whom it’s appropriate to delegate risk-management tasks and learn why insurance alone isn’t enough to control risk. This guide addresses the growing risks for community associations in the Internet age and how to integrate reserves and risk-management programs.

Road Repair Handbook
The Complete Guide to Fixing Roads and Driveways

299 pages, indexed, Item R7203 | Nonmember: $39.95 | CAI member: $24.95

If you maintain any paved surfaces, this book should be in your library. Find out how to maintain roads and parking lots correctly and economically, spot the signs of pavement failure, know when it’s okay to make quick fixes, learn how to deal with failing concrete, discover the advantages and disadvantages of concrete and asphalt, learn how to choose contractors and much more! This volume includes 60 illustrations and photographs, appendices, a metric conversion chart and a glossary.

Robert’s Rules of Order
Newly Revised, 11th Ed.
716 pages, indexed, Item R0205 | Nonmember: $24.95 | CAI member: $14.95
We’ve all heard the old joke that “a meeting is an event where minutes are taken and hours wasted.” Cute, but only true if no procedural rules are used. Robert’s Rules, the granddaddy of parliamentary procedural rules, is the most recognized guide for conducting smooth, orderly and fair meetings. It includes information on teleconferences, e-mail and video conferences, as well as easy-to-understand clarifications.

Robert’s Rules of Order IN BRIEF
198 pages, Item R0199 | Nonmember: $9.95 | CAI member: $5.95
If your meetings can be described as paralysis by analysis, you may need this pocket-guide version of Robert’s Rules of Order that distills and summarizes all the complexities of parliamentary procedure in a handy guide that’s suitable for board members, managers and homeowners. It contains numerous tables, charts and at-a-glance answers.

Self-Management
A Guide for the Small Community Association
