OVERVIEW OF FANNIE MAE AND FREDDIE MAC

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac are known as government-sponsored enterprises (GSE), a quasi-governmental entity established to enhance the flow of credit to specific sectors of the American economy. Created by Congress, these agencies are privately held companies under the oversight of the Federal Housing Finance Agency (FHFA) to help provide public financial services. These GSEs do not lend money to the public directly; instead, they guarantee third-party loans and purchase loans in the secondary market, providing money to lenders and financial institutions.

Following the Champlain Towers South condominium collapse in Surfside, Fla. in June 2021, the GSEs set out to make changes to their guidance that mortgage lenders must follow if they want Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac to guarantee or purchase their mortgages. According to FHFA, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac own 62% of conforming loans. Lenders rely on Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac to purchase or guarantee their mortgages because it gives more liquidity for lenders, which then allows them to underwrite or fund more mortgages.

Lenders need to comply with the new Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac requirements to maintain underwriting or funding the volume of mortgages.

The new requirements, updated in March 2026, intended to mitigate risk of losses for Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, create a database of condominium and housing cooperative projects that are ineligible for guarantee or purchase by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac. Lenders will and have declined lending in condominium and cooperative projects with significant deferred maintenance or unsafe conditions, special assessments, insufficient reserve funding, or no reserve study.

WHAT ARE LENDERS LOOKING FOR FROM CONDOS AND COOPS?

There is considerable overlap in the Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac requirements, and they have released a joint uniform lender questionnaire. Our summary below combines both Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac's requirements.

Significant Deferred Maintenance and Unsafe Conditions

Projects with significant deferred maintenance, evacuation orders, or unsafe conditions are not eligible until repairs are completed.

Special Assessments

Lenders must evaluate special assessments within the project to understand the reason for the special assessment, the total amount of the assessments (including repayment terms) and evaluate whether there is a negative impact to association funds to make critical repairs. The assessment must be considered in the borrower's debt ratios.

Reserve Requirements

All condominiums and housing cooperatives must have 15% of the associations assessment income dedicated to reserves effective January 4, 2027. This 15% must be clearly identifiable in the association's budget. This requirement may be waived if the association has had a reserve study conducted within the previous three years and is funding at the highest recommended level. Baseline funding is no longer allowed.

Significant Deferred Maintenance

The following criteria will make a building ineligible for secured mortgages:

- Buildings with significant deferred maintenance and unsafe conditions.
- A full or partial evacuation of the building to complete repairs is required for more than seven days or an unknown period of time.
- The project has deficiencies, defects, substantial damage, or deferred maintenance that is severe enough to affect the safety, soundness, structural integrity, or habitability of the improvements.
- The improvements need substantial repairs and rehabilitation, including to many major components that would impede the safe and sound functioning of one or more of the building's major structural or mechanical elements including, but not limited to, the foundation, roof, load bearing structures, electrical systems, HVAC, or plumbing.
- The building has not passed or completed required inspections (by local or state law).

The following are not considered significant deferred maintenance concerns

- Routine maintenance
- Improvement projects
- Repairs isolated to a few units that do not impact the overall project

Condo Project Manager™

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have a private database only available to lenders that tracks condominiums and housing cooperative buildings that are ineligible for mortgage backing from the GSEs.

Limited Review

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will be retiring the limited review process, with the transition expected to be finalized on or after August 3, 2026. Lenders will have to rely on either full project reviews or waiver of project review requests, however waivers can now be requested for communities of up to ten units. The 50% investor concentration limit has also been retired, along with Florida-specific review requirements.

Lender Questionnaires

A Freddie Mac and Fannie Mae joint form, an addendum to the existing Form 476, Condominium Project Questionnaire - Full Form, may assist lenders in determining whether a project meets the temporary requirements. The Condominium Project Questionnaire Addendum (Form 476A) is a voluntary form for lenders. However, it provides community association boards and managers with information to better understand what questions lenders will be asking. Most may be answered by the board and/or manager, but there are several questions that are not easily answered with a yes or no response that will require additional documentation from the board and/or manager. The following questions may need documentation given to the lender to determine the answer to the question.

Q: Is the condominium/housing cooperative corporation aware of any deficiency to the safety, soundness, structural integrity, or habitability of the project's building?

Possible Response: These documents may be provided to the lender to help them determine an answer to the question:

- Condo/coop board meeting minutes
- Building inspection report and/or engineer's report
- Reserve studies
- Maintenance schedule
- Other substantially similar documentation

Q. Is it anticipated the project will, in the future, have violation(s)? (Note: This is a follow up question to "Are there any outstanding violations of jurisdictional requirements (zoning ordinances, codes, etc.) related to the safety, soundness, structural integrity, or habitability of the project's buildings?")

Explanation from Freddie Mac: The purpose of this question is for known ordinances and laws that are already in place (not anticipated new laws/ordinances). For example, condominium buildings in California are required to comply with balcony inspection requirements by 2025, and condominiums and cooperatives in New York City are required to comply with regular façade, parking garage, and balcony (terrace) inspections. If the building is not compliant with the inspection requirements, or if the association is aware of significant issues that will likely result in a violation when the required inspection is done in 2025, then they should answer "Yes" to the question.

FAQs

Q: Are these deferred maintenance requirements applicable to condos only, or also to townhomes or single-family homes?

A: The updated requirements apply to all mortgages secured by units in projects with five or more attached units.

Q: What if the association board of directors does not want to answer the new Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac questions?

A: The lenders and appraisers may rely on sources other than condominium and housing cooperative representatives (board members, community manager, etc.) Fannie Mae has expressed willingness for the seller to be a source of information. It is important to note that Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have stated they will not back loans in condominiums and housing cooperatives if the lender is uncertain or unable to confirm the safety, soundness, integrity, and habitability of the building.

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will list the condominium and housing cooperative building list in their private database, Condo Manager, that is only accessible by lenders.

Q: Will there be a new form that is required to be filled out?

A: Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have previously released a uniform lender questionnaire. However, the GSEs do not mandate that lenders use the questionnaire.

Q: Does anyone here have any data on the percentage of community associations in the country that are underfunded in terms of reserves?

A: The Foundation for Community Association Research collected and presented the following data in 2020:

If you live in a condominium or homeowners association, does your community have a reserve study to help plan for repair and replacement of major components owned by the community?

- 60% Yes
- 22% Not Sure
- 18% No

Does your community have a plan to fund the repair and replacement of major components owned by the community?

- 75% Yes
- 16% Not Sure
- 9% No

Do you support annually investing in your community to build a fund for future repair and replacement of major components owned by the community?

- 71% Yes
- 13% Not Sure
- 16% No

Q: Can you clarify the term "significant deferred maintenance"?

A: Freddie Mac defines significant deferred maintenance as:

- The postponement of normal maintenance, which cannot reasonably be resolved by normal operations or routine maintenance, and which may result in the following:
  - Advanced physical deterioration
  - Lack of full operation or efficiency
  - Increased operating costs
  - Decline in property value

Q: To whom are these standards applicable? New condominiums, established condominiums, established coops?

A: All buildings, regardless of age, as defined: the updated requirements apply to all mortgages secured by units in projects with five or more attached units.

Q: What is Fannie's response if sales stop in condos due to non-answered questions either because there hasn't been enough time or communities have been advised not to answer?

A: It is important to note that Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have stated they will not back loans in condominiums and housing cooperatives if the lender is uncertain or unable to confirm the safety, soundness, integrity, and habitability of the building.

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will list the condominium and housing cooperative building list in their private database, Condo Manager, that is only accessible by lenders.

Q: What if an association board refuses to fill out the addendum due to potential exposure?

A: It is important to note that Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have stated they will not back loans in condominiums and housing cooperatives if the lender is uncertain or unable to confirm the safety, soundness, integrity, and habitability of the building.

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will list the condominium and housing cooperative building list in their private database, condo manager, that is only accessible by lenders.

Q: A resident obtains a mortgage via Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac, that was granted in part due to inaccurate/false information provided by the association. What are the penalties/remedies for the GSEs against the resident and the association?

A: Consult with your attorney to identify exposure to liability for answering and/or not answering questions.

Q: Are there civil or criminal penalties for incorrect responses to the questionnaire and are they similar to liability for mortgage fraud?

A: Consult with your attorney to identify exposure to liability for answering and/or not answering questions.

Q: If there are known issues with a building, isn't the association best served by not responding to the lender questionnaire?

A: Consult with your attorney.

It is important to note that Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac have stated they will not back loans in condominiums and housing cooperatives if the lender is uncertain or unable to confirm the safety, soundness, integrity, and habitability of the building.

Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac will list the condominium and housing cooperative building list in their private database, Condo Manager, that is only accessible by lenders.

Q: Is the 15% reserve requirement non-cumulative? Must 15% of the budget be set aside each year?

A: The requirement is that 15% of community association assessments shall be allocated to reserves in the annual budget.

Q. What is the liability for the management companies if the questions are answered incorrectly?

A: Consult with your attorney to explore liability associated with completing the questionnaires.

Q. In 2018, Fannie Mae released a reciprocity agreement with the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) and can take delivery of a conventional loan that is part of an FHA-approved condominium association. Do these questionnaires need to be completed if the community is FHA-certified? Can they bypass this process by using the reciprocity agreement already in place?

A: If a condominium is FHA-certified, it still needs to complete the lender questionnaire for Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac.

Q. What answer do we give if we cannot give a yes or no answer? Lenders push back on the "unknown" or "unable to answer" as a response.

A: It is appropriate to provide documentation like board meeting minutes, building/façade inspections, maintenance schedules/reports, and reserve studies and schedules so the lender may review the materials and answer the question on their own.

Q. What about simply making maintenance records available to lender akin to a document review in litigation? Let the lender make their own conclusions but give them the data.

A: It is appropriate to provide documentation like meeting minutes, building/façade inspections, maintenance schedules/reports, and reserve studies and schedules as documentation so the lender may review the materials and answer the question on their own.

Q. Do you have any data on the impact of the updated guidelines since they were first implemented?
